

How a judge views images

After the competition has closed, go to the website:

<https://stlcameraclub.com>

...and click on the Login button in the upper right of the page.

On menu select Judge -> Judging Queue for Website Judging. You should see a line for the competition you will be judging. Click on Select and you will be taken to a new screen where at the bottom there is dropdown menu to select the "Competition Level to Process".

We have 3 Competition Levels that are judged separately: B, A, and Salon. Select one of the levels and click on Randomize.

You should now see thumbnails of all the images in the selected Level.

Click on the first image and it will become larger for better viewing. Buttons along the bottom are used to move through the images: Next, Prior and Exit when you are finished.

Exit takes you back to the previous menu where you may pick the next Competition Level.

When finished, click Logoff in the upper right hand corner of the page.

Note: There is some unrelated text about judging, critiquing, scoring. Do not worry about this information, as it does not relate to previewing of the images.
